AUGSBURG TRAM LINES

The map on the previous page shows the Augsburg tram lines and how they connect the various conference sites. All tram lines intersect at Königsplatz, the city's main transportation hub. To change lines, you have to go to Königsplatz first. Also, many conference hotels are within walking distance from Königsplatz.

The most important tram line for the conference members is tram number 3, with the end points 'Stadtbergen' and 'Inninger Str.', respectively. Line 3 connects the Augsburg central train station with the University of Applied Sciences (called Fachhochschule Augsburg, location of arts exhibitions) and the campus of the University of Augsburg (the main conference site). The end point of the tram line is always being displayed on the front and sides of the tram. It tells you in which direction the tram is currently travelling. Inside the tram, the next stop is always being announced and/or displayed.

To get to either conference site from downtown Augsburg, take line 3 in direction 'Inninger Str.'. It leaves at Königsplatz platform 'F' every 5 to 10 minutes, depending on the current day and time.

The live arts exhibition at the University of Applied Sciences (Fachhochschule Augsburg) is only two stops away from Königsplatz: after getting off the tram at 'Rotes Tor', it is just a three-minute walk along 'Rote-Torwall-Straße' to the Fachhochschule (see separate map below).

The University campus is roughly a 10 minute ride from Königsplatz. The stop to get off the tram is called 'Universität'. You will find yourself right at the spot marked with an 'H' and labeled "Straßenbahnlinie 3 – Haltestelle Universität" as shown on the map on the previous page.

To get back to downtown from either site, get on any line 3 tram towards Stadtbergen. It will arrive at Königsplatz platform 'G'. From there, you can either walk back to your hotel (in most cases), or change tram and bus lines, or catch a taxi.
